GENERAL LAMPRICIERE. - The French General, whose name has of late become familiar to the public in connection with military operations in the Papal States, was born at Nantes on the oth of February, 1806. Receiving his education at the Polytechnic School, and completing his military studies I would beg leave to call the attention at Metz, he entered the corps of Engineers and became a lieutenant in 1830, Like many of the French Generals, he owes his early advance to the African conquest, in search of a which he first served as the captain of the Zonaves. He participated in eighteen campaigns, rose rapidly from grade to grade until 1847, when, as was supposed, he completed his military career by a successful strategy which resulted in the capture of Abd-el-Kader, and the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor was conferred upon him.

In 1848 he was sent to the Chamber of Deputies as the representative of St. Calais, in the department of the Sarthe. He took part the following patterns: his seat on the opposition benches, and was the intended Minister of War in the combination proposed by Thiers, Mole and Barrot, in the event of the success of the overthrow of ALMA, Sliding Doors. Louis Philippe.

The scheme, however, did not prove successful. On the 24th of February, presenting biniself at the scene of the revolt, in the uniform of a Colonel of the National Guard, he proclaimed the abdication of the King and the RADIATORS. regency of the Duchess of Orleans; but his SIGNAL, Open Fronts horse was killed, himself wounded, and he | SELF REGULATORS. was only saved by the intervention of some | COTTAGE PARLORS. workmen, who protected him from the fury their comrades. He refused the post of War Minister under the provisional government. During the terrible days of June he fought under Gen, Cavaignac against the insurgents, and on the 28th of that month accepted the portfeuille of the War Department, which he held for six months. He remained faithful to Cavaignac and attached himself to the most moderate faction of the democratic party. He offered but little opposition to Louis Napoleon on his accession to the control of govern- and dispatch, at ment as President of the republic, but disapproved of the course of events then transpiring in Italy. Afterwards, becoming one of the representatives of the people in the general Assembly, he was one of the staunchest defenders of the republican constitution. In July, 1849, at the moment of the intervention of the Russian arms in Hungary, he was sent on an extraordinary mission to the Court TEAS, TOBACCO, FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC of St. Petersburg, where, notwithstanding the defeat of the Hungarians, he was well received by the Czar: but on hearing of the dismissal of the Odilion Barrot ministry, he demanded his recall. From this time all his power in the Assembly, of which he was several times Vice President, was employed in counteracting the designs of Louis Napoleon. On the morning of the 2d December. on the occasion of the famous coup d'etat, he was accordingly arrested, and confined for a time in the fortress of Ham, but subsequently was transferred by the police to Cologue. Refusing to take an oath under the new constitution promulgated by the President, ie became an exile, and from that time re sided in Germany, Belgium and England, down to 1857, when, on the death of one of his children who had remained in France with his wife, the Emperor granted him permission to return. It's connection with the Papal army is a matter of more recent date, and is consequently familiar to our readers. It appears that he received the pro forma consent of the Emperor to accept the command offered by his Holiness, and he has since acted in that capa-

The States taken 240 grades of QUEENSWARE, of all together have a density of about sixteen to the square mile. With the density of Sweden and Norway, which are the least populous of any European States, the United PORCELAIN States would have forty-five millions of inhabitants; with the density of Russia, over eighty millions; with that of Spain, two hundred millions; of France, five hundred millions; of Britain, six hundred and sixty millions; of Belgium, eleven hundred and fifty

In population, the United States is probably exceeded by four of the European Powers, namely, Russia, Austria, France, and the British Empire in Europe. It is nearly or quite twice as populous as Prussia. Spain or Turkey, and it is equal to the aggregate population of twenty-four out of the thirty seven States of Europe,- Eich. Pis.
